

Georgetown University
Research Assistant

A Research Assistant and /or a post doctoral position is available immediately at Georgetown University at Washington DC. The initial appointment is for one year with a possible extension depends upon satisfactory performance and availability of funds. The objective of the study is to elucidate the functions of the designated proteins in brain and cancer cells in presence of Tumor Growth Factor Beta (TGF- β). Qualified applicants must hold a Master Degree in case of a research assistant and a Ph.D in case of a post doctoral position. Experience with mammalian transfections, western blotting, protein and DNA extraction from tissues, mammalian cell culturing are desirable. Experience in mouse handling is a plus. Interested candidates should apply by sending one page cover letter, two page resume and the contact information of three professional referees at <jobs@lmts@gmail.com>. Cover letter should contain 'Visa status' and availability date.